

Emma Brothers

The University of Alabama
Department of Communicative Disorders
emma.brothers@ua.edu

EDUCATION

Doctor of Audiology, University of Memphis, May 2021

Bachelor of Arts, The University of Alabama, May 2017

LICENSURE AND CERTIFICATION

Alabama Board of Examiners for Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology
License: 1289a

American Speech-Language Hearing Association Certificate of Clinical Competence, Audiology
License: 14288717

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Southern ENT & Sinus Center, Birmingham, AL
May 2021 – January 2022 Clinical Audiologist

Excel ENT of Alabama, Birmingham, AL
December 2021 Clinical Audiologist

Tuscaloosa Ear, Nose & Throat. Tuscaloosa, AL
May 2020 – April 2021 Audiology Extern

CLINICAL EXPERIENCE

Comprehensive audiological evaluations for birth to geriatric populations
Distortion-product otoacoustic emissions (DPOAE)
Transient-evoked otoacoustic emissions (TEOAE)
Hearing aid evaluations, orientations, adjustments, and repairs for digital hearing aids
Real ear measurements for objective verification of hearing aid fittings

PROFESSIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

American Speech and Hearing Association

PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITIES

Conference Presentations

Brothers, E. & Johnson, J. (2020). Does audiologic intervention improve satisfaction with direct-to-consumer hearing aids? Poster session presented at the annual meeting of the American Auditory Society, Scottsdale, AZ.

Invited Guest Speaker

Brothers, E. & Stecker, A. (2021). Does audiologic intervention improve satisfaction and self-efficacy with direct-to-consumer hearing devices? Presented virtually at the Ph.D. Colloquium at the University of Memphis.